

Ash Aggarwal
IQVIA

Ash is a leader within the Global Commercial Compliance team at IQVIA and has 20+ years of combined life sciences industry and consulting experience. He has significant global experience of designing and implementing enhancements to compliance programs in addition to utilizing data, analytics and technology to drive these enhancements fuelling compliance programs and in particular global monitoring.

Prior to joining IQVIA, he was Global Lead for Risk Assessment, compliance monitoring and data analytics at Astellas Pharmaceuticals and has held global roles within teams at AstraZeneca and Amgen with focus on healthcare compliance, anti-bribery and privacy and on-the ground experience of markets around the world.